

SENATOR MARTIN SPEAKS TO CLUB

Bryan-Kern-Hay Boosters Listen to Sage Sayings of Distinguished Man.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., August 25.—A goodly number of Democrats met in the courthouse last night and formed an enthusiastic Bryan, Kern and Hay club, with a membership of nearly 200 voters. The following officers were elected:

President, Judge R. T. W. Duke; Vice-Presidents, A. V. Conway, J. Payne Carroll, Andrew M. Brechin and Colonel Henry M. Lewis; Secretary and Treasurer, J. H. Lindsay.

Captain Micajah Woods presided, and in his opening address paid a high compliment to Bryan, and in conclusion expressed the belief that the great States of the North, especially of the Northwest, would fall in line this year for the Commoner.

Other speeches were made by Senator Thomas S. Martin, George Perkins and Judge Duke.

Senator Martin made an exceedingly vigorous and forceful address, which was received with great enthusiasm. The numerous telling points he made against the Republican party provoked bursts of applause. He was in fine form, and his speech made a profound impression.

Referring to the "Taft Democrats," the Senator said: "I would like to see a Democrat who can't vote for Mr. Taft. Whatever may have been the case in the past, there is no excuse for supporting him in this campaign. Those who choose to leave the party in this juncture will be influenced by selfish considerations, and will be kicked out of the party. It is good ridance of bad rubbish."

Defense of Democracy.
Senator Martin closed with a splendid defense of the Democratic platform and the nominees. The party is united than ever to-day, he said. The country is not free from the menace of policies deeply imbedded in the principles of the opposing party. The Republicans will cut down Southern representation in Congress if you don't watch them. Those who believe that the ignorant negroes of the South are likely to be intrusted with the ballot should cast their votes for Taft.

"No man," said the Senator, "possesses a broader humanity or has higher regard for the interests of his fellow man than Bryan. He is too good, pure and righteous willingly to do wrong to any section or class in this country. All of our interests will be safe with him."

Hon. George Perkins.
The last speaker was the Hon. George Perkins, who delivered a rousing address to the men and the issues involved in this campaign. In referring to the popularity of Roosevelt, he said that no President since the foundation of our government had done more to weaken the institutions of our country. He has packed the courts, overturned the Constitution, treated the whole American nation as his personal property. He has been despotic and dictatorial, and denounced as liars those who dared to differ with him.

In conclusion, Mr. Perkins paid a beautiful tribute to Bryan's integrity, character, personal popularity and courage. He referred to the fact that Bryan had been in the limelight for twelve years at least, and in all that time the Democrats had not been able to bring forward a man who as a candidate for the presidency, surpassed

MISSIONARY'S WIFE PRAISES CUTICURA

Daughter's Head Encrusted with Dandruff—Feared she Would Lose her Hair—Many Treatments were Futile—Baby had Milk-Crust.

BOTH CHILDREN CURED BY FAMOUS REMEDIES

"For several years my husband was a missionary in the Southwest, and we were living on the edge of the desert at an elevation of nearly five thousand feet. Every one in that high and dry atmosphere has more or less trouble with dandruff and my daughter's scalp became so encrusted with it that I was alarmed for fear she would lose all her hair, which was very heavy. After spending between five and six dollars for various remedies, in desperation I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. After rubbing the Cuticura Ointment thoroughly into the roots of the hair, I gently combed the crust of dandruff free from the scalp, and then gave her head a thorough shampoo with the Cuticura Soap. This left the scalp beautifully clean and free from dandruff, and after the hair was dry I again rubbed the Cuticura Ointment, this time sparingly, into the roots, and I am happy to say that the Cuticura Remedies were a complete success. My troubles with dandruff were over, although for a long time afterward I used the Cuticura Ointment as at first, after shampooing, which kept the scalp and roots of the hair moist. I have used successfully the Cuticura Remedies for so-called 'milk-crust' on baby's head, and have never found anything to equal them. You are at liberty to publish this letter, for I do sincerely believe that the Cuticura Remedies are a blessing to mankind. Mrs. J. A. Darling, 310 Fifth St., Chicago, Ohio, Jan. 20, 1908."

Cuticura Ointment is one of the most successful cures for itching, disfiguring humors of the skin and scalp, including loss of hair, even compounded, in proof of which a single counting with it preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed, when necessary, by a mild dose of Cuticura Resolvent (liquid or pills) is often sufficient to afford immediate relief of itching, burning and scaly humors, eczemas, irritations and inflammations, permit rest and sleep and point to a speedy cure when all else fails.

All of the boats will be supplied with stores and the men will be kept busy looking after the details from now until leaving time.

This station is to be converted into a detention camp as soon as the flotilla leaves here, and many improvements are to be made there.

Every effort was made by Captain L. C. Richardson to keep the flotilla here until the first of the year, owing to the warm weather further south, but the orders are imperative and will be complied with to the letter.

The merchants and others will be affected by the removal of the flotilla, as between $12,000 and $15,000 is paid out to the men there every month.

'MUST SAY GOOD-BY; AM LEAVING WORLD'

Another Albemarle County Youth, Without Apparent Motive, Ends Life.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., August 25.—Another well-known resident of this county has used the pistol as a means of self-destruction. Mr. Charles Norris, of Free Union, a graduate of the School for the Deaf and Blind, yesterday sent a bullet through his heart a few minutes after writing a note to a friend in which he gave notice of his purpose, without assigning any reason for it.

The tragedy took place on the farm of Mr. J. C. Bing, where young Norris had found a .32-caliber pistol in the room that he was occupying. Norris was in the very best of humor yesterday morning. Upon coming to the house to dinner, he went off to his room for a few minutes, and was seen writing while there. He then came down and went out into the barn.

Leaves Note.
Upon going to Norris's room a few minutes later, Mr. Ellis Bing found a note on the dressing table, which read: "My Dear Ellis: I must say good-bye to you and all. I am leaving the world now."

Mr. Bing immediately began to search for Mr. Norris, not caring to let any one else know, for fear of exciting his mother and sister. Unfortunately, soon found that his suspicions were only too true.

Mr. Norris was discovered lying dead near the granary, with the revolver only a few feet away. It had dropped from his hand as he fell.

Both Deaf and Dumb.

Mr. Norris was thirty years of age, the youngest son of the late Albert Norris, of Free Union. He was a highly intelligent and energetic young man, although he was handicapped by being both deaf and dumb. He leaves three sisters, in addition to a number of other relatives, most of whom live near Free Union. A cousin, Mr. Peter Norris, of Earlysville, is well known throughout the county.

Mr. Norris was the rash act of the young man is known other than general dependency over his affliction and health, which has been quite bad this summer.

The interment took place at the family burying ground at Free Union at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

COLLAPSE OF FIRM STARTLES MARKET

clined to-day, because of the unsettled condition in the affairs of the firm following Saturday's spectacular business. Further to certify any of its checks. One of the managers of the house, when asked as to this, dismissed the subject by saying the firm had asked for no certifications.

Less than an hour before the suspension, and when efforts were being made to stave off the delivery of unpurchased stocks, the firm announced that its business was proceeding in orderly fashion, and that any suggestion as to its financial standing was ridiculous.

Friends of the members of the firm declared to-night that the collapse was due entirely to the clogging of the regular channels of business by the extraordinary Saturday trading. A thousand shares of the firm's stock could not properly enter and transfer the 750,000 shares handled by the firm on Saturday within the space of time allowed by the exchange rules for making deliveries.

The head of the firm, Albert O. Brown was before the Stock Exchange governors on Monday afternoon to explain tardiness of delivery, and it was announced afterwards that his explanation as to this feature of the trading had been accepted. It was further announced that the governors of the exchange would appoint a committee of five to inquire thoroughly into Saturday's transaction, as a means of restoring public confidence and punishing any members who had been guilty of a flagrant violation of the rules. The personnel of this committee had not been announced when the failure of Brown & Co. became known, but it was said that the events of the day had in no way changed the purpose of the governors.

Sensational Day.

Saturday's trading will long be remembered in Wall Street. With the opening of the session of the exchange there was an almost immediate plunging in the shares of a few active favorites, and in a short time the ordinary unit of sale were raised from 500 and 1,000 shares to 5,000 and 10,000 shares, and it seemed as though the few brokers participating were playing a game with so many pieces of paper. In all this wild flurry of buying and selling of shares, the face value of which amounted to millions of dollars, there was little or no change in the price of the securities so freely handled. Suspicion of manipulation and of the "matching" of orders was not aroused, and there was more interest in the exchange met on Monday to inaugurate an inquiry.

Members of the suspended firm early in the day on Saturday declared there was nothing extraordinary in their trading. The fact that the stocks dealt in showed no great change of price, they declared, bewildered the followers of the market and brought about the widespread comment.
